Fire, Alarm and Security Services

The Lifeline Difference

Established since 1990, Lifeline is the longest continuously established provider of Fire and Security Services on the Island, and the Island's only company accredited by both NSI and BAFE for the design, installation and maintenance of fire alarm and security systems - and the only one to hold the coveted ISO 9001:2000 quality assurance standard.

Our Island based team provide you with your own personal point of contact and peace of mind from our offices and technical centre in Newport.

As you would expect, we take pride in using the best of technology and keep to the forefront of innovation to ensure that the choice you make is the right one for now and the future, whatever your requirement.

Mark Lee
Commercial Director

"The provision of security & protection is one of the most important choices we make. Whether to protect our family, our possessions, or our businesses, the choice of fire & security provider is vital to our peace of mind and re-assurance.

You not only need to have confidence that your choice of system is reliable, but also that the back up you receive is there when you need it most.

We take pride in using the best of technology and keep to the forefront of innovation - but above all, maintain effective relationships with all our valued clients, to ensure that the choice they make is the right one for now and the future."
