BEMBRIDGE COAST HOTEL

Customers always like to feel safe and secure whatever their environment. However when relaxing we can be a little more at risk. Tony Green of Bembridge Coast Hotel explains how Lifeline help to keep their guests safe.

How has Lifeline delivered first class solutions to Bembridge Coast Hotel ?

Bembridge Coast Hotel is part of the Bourne Leisure Group. Lifeline has become an essential part of our supply chain partnership. Most recently we have included new CCTV systems to key areas of our facilities. I have worked with Lifeline for many years and our expectations have always been satisfied.

How has Lifeline Improved security at Bembridge Coast Hotel ?

The solutions offered and supplied by Lifeline have been exactly what we require. Without over engineering solutions, each system has been exactly what we required for each individual instance. At the same time Lifeline have also taken into account the long term objectives of the proposed security system. This has helped to increase customer confidence and safety.

Has Lifeline delivered professional high standards ?

Lifeline has delivered first class and professional services to Bembridge Coast Hotel. From the initial enquiry, through site meetings, and delivery of the product, engineering attendance and installation, careful attention to detail is shown. This means that we can have total confidence in the supplier performance at each stage.

How have you become to rely on Lifeline an effective and Business Service Provider ?

As a business it is essential that we concentrate on our core activity. To be unnecessarily concerned or disturbed about other matters can take away our focus. When it comes to matters of security, we have total confidence that Lifeline can and will deliver the solutions we require with the minimum amount of fuss and involvement from ourselves. In short we can assign a project to Lifeline and know it will be completed to our satisfaction, this is a vital part of any business relationship.

Lifeline continue to work closely with both Bembridge Coast Hotel and many other high quality leisure facilities across the Isle of Wight, providing a full range of professionally designed and supported electronic Fire and Security Solutions to this vital island business sector.
